

_____ v _____

Identify each side and what they represent?

What is the constitutional issue at stake in this case? (Phrase in question format.)

How does the Constitution potentially protect each side?

What are the implications of deciding the case in favor of each side?
In other words how will this case set a precedent for future situations like this?

Precedents set the boundaries and help explain how this case may be adjudicated. Understanding how the court has ruled in other cases about the broader issue may help you interpret the narrower one.
List these previous precedents with a brief description of the ruling.